Doty Places 9th in Hammer Throw at US Nationals

Jesse Doty made his way to Oregon for the second straight year, this time looking to improve on his 13th place finish at the 2008 Olympic Trials in the hammer throw. Improve he did, placing 9th with a throw of 68.05 meters (223' 5"). He missed making the finals by one place. "I'm getting there," commented Doty. "I wanted to place higher, but it has been a good year."
